Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES AND WORK.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 25, 1919.

Since the permanent organization of the Y. M. C. A. as a branch of the Central Y. M. C. A. (white) there seems to be a new awakening in the varied activities of the Y. M. C. A. Men along all lines of human endeavor will have an opportunity to enjoy the benefits of the Y. M. C. A. through the organization of many clubs perfected this week.

Next week, the boys' work will be organized. Much is being worked out that will prove recreational and beneficial for the boys.

Many jobs and positions are being filled daily. The only price is personal effort to come and receive if pleased.

Our friends and visitors are welcome at all times. We are always pleased to have you read our standard magazines when ever you can make it convenient while down town.

We hope to add a business course to our Y. M. C. A. in short. Those who desire to begin with the class phone me at once, Lamar 7079.

S. H. Fowler, Secretary.

Morning Chapel C. M. E. Church

Cor. 3rd and Crumps St.

Rev. M. H. Spencer, Pastor.
The inclement weather did not have any effect on the service in Morning Chapel all day Sunday. Promptly at 9:30 Supt. J. T. Langston with his staff of teachers opened the Sunshine Sunday school. Full of vim and pep. The teachers have taken on new life and the school is flourishing.

The pastor preached another soul stirring sermon in the morning service adding one member to the church. All eyes are on the coming of Bishop Cottrell, Oct. 8th. If you are not an Epworth Leaguer get in line. Promptly at 6:30 the Epworth League was in full blast with each teacher on duty. Dr. Spencer has charge of the Bible class that is bringing things to pass. The financial banner went to the Ever-ready section. Epworth League every Sunday evening at 6:30.

The Hotel Walters' Club was the guest of Morning Chapel in the night service and rendered a splendid program. President Jackson with his men in five minutes laid $10.00 on the table. Collections for the days were, "55,000 rally nuf sed."

THE LATE AND LAMENTED DR. M. P. PENN.

Dr. Marion P. Penn, the subject of this sketch was born in Jefferson, Marion County, Texas, Oct. 22, 1866, where he spent the most of his youth.

His parents having died when he was quite small, and with no one on whom he could depend, made it difficult for him to succeed. But being determined and full of ambition, he pushed his way through the public school, and being such a brilliant scholar, was chosen teacher of the school of his home town, which he taught for several years. He took on new energy from this success, and entered Wiley University at Marshall, Texas, where he finished his literary training and came out with the degree of "Bachelor of Pedagogy" in 1892. After finishing from this school, he went to Oklahoma, and was a successful teacher of that state, having secured as high a certificate as could be made. It was here, he decided to take a course in medicine. He went to Chicago, and after taking a three years' course there, he went to Meharry Medical and Pharmaceutical College at Nashville, Tenn., where he finished with honors in 1902. Feeling that he was prepared for life's duties, he returned to Texas, and began his practice at Pilot Point. Remaining here only a short while, he came to Dallas, where he devoted more than 15 years to the uplift and aid of suffering humanity. Realizing that his health was failing he gave up his practice in early spring, and went away to health resorts; but to no avail. With an unimproved condition, he returned home, where he continued growing worse, until the end came, Wednesday, Sept. 10, after assuring his dear wife that he would keep in touch with her, the useful life of Dr. Marion P. Penn came to an end.

He decided to live alone and devote his time wholly for the good of his race, but two hearts, unaware were beating as one. Christmas 1911, Miss Johnnie B. Wilson of Arcadia, La., visited her sister, Mrs. Irene Napoleon (then of Dallas) and Rev. and Mrs. Lincoln also of Dallas. It was during this visit that she met Dr. Penn, and when they met, regard- less of his monotonous conclusion, the "die was cast" for his heart went out to her and hers to him, he had met his bride. Christmas 1912, he visited the beautiful little town of Arcadia and secured her promise in matrimony. June 4, 1913, is the date of the most beautiful wedding that had ever occurred in this little town. Miss Johnnie B. Wilson became Mrs. Dr. M. P. Penn. She was beautifully attired in white mesaline satin artistically touched with snow drops giving the gown the appearance of diamonds. The snow drops were beautifully looped with a bunch of wax orange blossoms, while the white satin slippers had a cluster of beaded rosettes also resembling diamonds. The veil, caught in the form of a queen's crown, extended three yards to the end of the bridal train. The groom was attired in a black Prince Albert suit with a bouquet of orange blossoms on the lapel of his coat and white kid gloves. The eight bridesmaids beautifully attired in pink satin gowns carried large bouquets of pink roses. Eight groomsmen all attired in full dress suits were looking their best. Dr. F. T. Jones of Shreveport, was best man. Little Mattie Wilson attired in her little pink satin gown, carried the diamond ring on a cut-glass tray. Little Beatrice Moran, the flower girl, strewed flowers upon which the bride and groom passed to the altar. Mrs. V. C. Pipes (white) one of the wealthiest ladies of Arcadia, directed the church decorations which carried out the color scheme, pink and white. This scheme was intermingled with a beautiful back ground of English and Maiden hair ferns. The two hearts entwined under which the bride and groom stood, were excellent resemblances of two hearts beating as one. Preceding the entrance of the wedding party, Mrs. A. E. Davis of Shreveport, sang "O, Promise Me," after which she softly played the wedding march. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, by whom she was given away. Rev. Dr. G. W. Mills of Shreveport, pastor of the C. M. E. Temple performed the ceremony that made two hearts happy. Dr. and Mrs. Penn left the same night for Dallas, their future home where they lived happily for six years, two months and ten days.

A Card.

There is nothing more consoling than sympathy when one is undergoing the keenest affliction which humanity can sustain. This world has seemed a caos of blackness and darkness and grief since death invaded my home, and taken my dear husband, Dr. M. P. Penn. In this so dark an hour, my friends have not left me alone to bear the burden. During the whole siege of his illness until now, you have come and do come with you love, assistance with beautiful flowers and cheer. For these lovely demonstrations and tokens I extend to one and all my heartfelt gratitude. Had it not been for you, I could not have endured.

Signed:

MRS. DR. M. P. PENN.

Parsons, Kans., Sept. 25.—The second annual Tennis tournament for the Kansas State championship was held under the auspices of the Idle Hour Tennis club of Parsons, Kans., Sept. 1, 1919. Player representing Coffeyville, Wichita, Independence, and Parsons, were entered. On account of the large entrance and the late starting the semi-finals were reached. The four left were the best in the state. Undoubtedly W. M. Gillespie was the best of the four. In the semi-finals Dr. Bell of Wichita, was to play Dr. Bowser of Parsons, and Mr. Bias Hennigan of Coffeyville, to play the star of all comers and the 1919 champion of the Parsons City Championship in singles and doubles.

Mr. W. M. Gillespie of Parsons. All of the matches before the semi-finals were closely contested and some rare form shown. In the doubles Parsons showed exceptional form and defeated their opponents in easy fashion. After the tournament a Kansas State Association for the betterment of Tennis was found, the officers are as follows:

Dr. E. E. Bowser, president; Dr. Bell, vice president; Prof. Whitaker, secretary; Dr. Davis, treasurer. Per W. M. Gillespie.
